

Spire

The new lightweight ice axe for travel in the mountains.

The Spire is tough enough to deal with the demands of modern winter mountaineering, yet light enough for general walking and ski touring. Optimised lightweight tubing and a complete re-design of our bungs and steelwork has found a fine balance that means it carries without effort yet can penetrate ice and cut steps when required.

SPIRE V01

FEATURES

- High strength steel alloy pick, adze, and spike for excellent purchase and durability.
- Machined chamfers on both the pick and adze, for efficient penetration of ice and neve.
- Ergonomic pick and bung, for a comfortable grip in pilot mode.
- Strong and light anodised aluminium shaft, for lightweight travel and reliable support.
- A durable spike and bung for ease of penetration in hard and soft snow.
- Large tethering points in the pick and spike, for ease of clipping and security.
